

luxury in city break

POPULAR WATERING HOLE: above, The Mint Bar, transformed from the original bank's vaults and right, The Exchange Restaurant and Cocktail Bar

In total, the Westin offers 17 suites including a split-level College Suite, comprising a living room, boardroom, private exercise area, Nordic steam room and impressive views of Trinity College. The Library Suites, named after Irish literary figures such as James Joyce and George Bernard Shaw, each have their own living room and study. One drawback of the hotel is that it doesn't have a swimming pool, however it does have two private workout rooms complete with cardiovascular, toning and stretching equipment, allowing guests to exercise in the comfort and privacy of their own rooms, as well as a fully equipped fitness centre.

■ Why not have a heavenly start to 2009 in the Westin Dublin. For e255 per person sharing, enjoy a five-course dinner in The Exchange Restaurant, as well as entry to The Mint Bar and one night's accommodation. For e359 per person, the same package applies but with two nights accommodation.

■ For further details you can contact The Westin Dublin at College Green, Westmoreland Street, Dublin 2 on 00 353 (0) 1645 1000 or look up www.thewestindublin.com

Spa heaven

INDULGING in one of Melt's personal spa services while staying at The Westin is a must.

Relax

Why not recharge your batteries with the ultimate full body massage. This classic massage therapy helps increase circulation, relieves muscle pain, tension and stress. (60 mins: €95)

Restore

This massage involves deep pressure and is especially beneficial for the physically active individual. The treatment provides a strong massage to alleviate tightness and strain and is particularly effective for stiff necks and sore shoulders. (60 mins: €100)

Aveda pampering facial

Suitable for both men and women, this is an encapsulating facial for stimulating cell regeneration and renewal. (60 mins: €95.)
